

Task 4 and 5

Before the global pandemic occurred, this weekend would have been used to celebrate 75 years since V.E Day.

The screenshot shows the BBC News website interface. At the top, there is a navigation bar with the BBC logo, a search bar, and links for News, Sport, Weather, iPlayer, Sounds, and More. Below this is a red banner with the word "NEWS" in white. Underneath the banner, there are links for Home, UK, World, Business, Politics, Tech, Science, Health, Family & Education, Entertainment & Arts, Stories, and More. The main content area features a headline: "May bank holiday 2020 changed for VE Day anniversary" dated 8 June 2019. Below the headline is a photograph of a crowd celebrating VE Day, with a sign that reads "IT'S V-E DAY! Great Britain's Victory over the Germans". To the right of the main article, there is a "Top Stories" section with three items: "PM to update UK on 'steps to defeat' coronavirus", "Captain Tom celebrates 100th birthday", and "'Probable' that 100,000 test target will be missed". Below this is a "Features" section with a small image of a crowd.

I would like you to take time to research what this day was and what it meant to our past generations.

From this research, you may like to produce something to commemorate this day or record what you have learnt from it.

At the beginning of lockdown, you were shown 67 different ways of presenting work, you may want to explore this?

I would like to share with you some "Then and Now" photos, they made me stop and reflect:
